

A reminder to those in public office

“The people of the State do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them.

The people in delegated authority do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know.

The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created”

-Government Code 54950