

My Goals for the 1st Hundred Days As Mayor

Sep 17th, 2008

by admin.

During my first 100 days as mayor, I will do my best to accomplish the following goals:

- Bring the proper order to the city's management where the administration serves the council and mayor, and the council and mayor serves the citizens.
- Meet with residents to listen to concerns, questions and input for the city.
- Work with others to investigate Water and Sewer Bond to try and ease the burden of our water and sewer bills.
- Work to develop a completely transparent government where citizens will have the opportunity for FREE information and access to the City Staff and Government.
- Work to develop a clear, readable budget and post on the city and/or Mayor's website.
- Investigate the City Planning and Budget Committee's proposals and determine what has been accomplished and what hasn't been accomplished and why.
- Develop communication tools and volunteer citizen committees to develop and move forward with the vision of the citizens for the city such as:
 - Code Compliance Committee
 - City and Park Beautification Committee
 - Grant Research and Application Committee
 - Community Event Committee
 - Safety Committee
- Meet with other similar sized city mayors, administrations and leadership to determine what works and what doesn't.
- Ensure that the Council Meeting Agendas (verbal and written) are clear and understandable to the residents of Lafayette.
- Foster a climate where all citizens are encouraged to participate and will have their voices heard especially during City Council Meetings.